

Keng-hui Lin

Central Police University

Department of Police Administration, No.56, Shuren Rd., Guishan Dist., Taoyuan City
333322, Taiwan

Email : mallofoster@mail.cpu.edu.tw

Education

2016-2020 University College London

PhD, Department of Security and Crime Science

Title of Thesis: Towards Democratic Policing in Taiwan: A Longitudinal Study of the Effects of Police Education on Human Rights, Moral Reasoning, Prejudice and Receptivity to Evidence-Based Policing

2011-2013 Central Police University

MA, Department of Criminal Investigation

2003-2007 Central Police University

BA, Department of Foreign Affairs Police

Professional Appointments

2022-present

Assistant Professor, Department of Administration Police, Central Police University

2018-2020

Postgraduate teaching assistant, Department of Security and Crime Science, University
College London

2013-2016

Inspector, Office of Internal Affairs, Kinmen Police Department

2010-11

Investigator, Criminal Investigation Division, Chiayi City Police Department

Publications (journal)

English version

Lin K., Bradford B. (Accepted). The generalisability of procedural justice in post-Confucian societies - A test of normative vs instrumental models in Taiwan. Journal of Criminology (SSCI).

Lin K., Sidebottom A., Wortley R. (2025). On the barriers and facilitators of evidence-based policing in Taiwan: A quasi-experimental study of individual, educational and organisational correlates of police receptivity to research. Journal of Policing and Society (SSCI).

Lin K., Sidebottom A., Wortley R. (2024). Police education and democratic policing in Taiwan: a longitudinal quasi-experimental study of the effects of selection and police socialisation on human rights, moral reasoning and prejudice. Journal of Experimental Criminology, Vol. 20, 787–815 (SSCI).

Lin K., Sidebottom A., Wortley R. (2022). Evidence-based policing and police receptivity to research: Evidence from Taiwan. Policing: An International Journal of Police Strategies and Management, Vol.45 No.5 p.60-80 (SSCI).

Chinese version

Lin K. (2025). From Admission to Professional: The effect of professional police education on the receptivity of evidence-based policing. Journal of Research in Applied Psychology (TSSCI).

Lin K. (2025). Effects of procedural justice on police legitimacy and public cooperation among police-initiated and citizen-initiated contacts. Journal of Criminology Research, Vol. 5.

Lin K. (2024). Effects of procedural justice and police legitimacy on public compliance. Journal of Social Science and Philosophy, Vol. 38 (TSSCI).

Lin K. (2021). The development, application and challenge of evidence-based policing with reflection on local policing research. Police Science Quarterly, Vol. 52 No. 1 p.41-66.

Publications (book chapters)

Lin K. (2025). Planning of police operation. in Police Operation and Smart Policing. Wu-Nan Culture Press. Pp. 66-95 (ISBN: 978-626-423-199-2).

Lin K. (2021). Crime displacement and diffusion of benefits: A review of geographically focused policing initiatives, in Ye B. (eds) Correctional Education and Crime Prevention. Taiwan Leading Jurisprudence Press. Pp. 403-434.

Funded Research Experience

Co-PI “The application of Buddha ethics in preventing human trafficking and frauds” Funded by the Taoyuan Buddhist Lotus Society for 75,000 USD (06/2025 – 05/2028)

Principal Investigator “The influence of procedural justice on police legitimacy and citizens’ compliance with law.” Funded by the Taiwan Ministry of Science & Technology (MOST 112-2410-H-015-001-SS2) for $51,100 USD. (01/2023-12/2024)

Selected Conference Papers, Presentations and Seminars

- Lin K. (2025). A comparative study on the receptivity of evidence-based policing between Canada, USA and Taiwan. Presented in the 2025 Annual Conference of British Society of Criminology, Portsmouth UK, July 2025.
- Lin K. (2024). Procedural justice and type of contact: the effect of procedural justice on law compliance in reactive and proactive policing in Taiwan. Presented in the 33rd International Congress of Psychology, Prague Czech, July 2024.
- Lin K. (2023). Police legitimacy and compliance with the law: Testing an alternative model in Taiwan. Presented in the annual meeting of Australian and New Zealand Society of Criminology, Melbourne Australia, Dec 2023.
- Lin K. (2018). Moral development in police occupations - to maintain norms or to respect for humanity? Presented in the annual meeting of European Society of Criminology, Sarajevo Bosnia and Herzegovina, Aug 2018.
- Lin K. (2017). Are Police Officers Born to Be Anti-science? An Exploration in Taiwan. Presented in the annual meeting of American Society of Criminology, Philadelphia USA, Nov 2017.
- Lin K. (2017). The Police – Protectors or Violators of Human Rights? Presented in the annual meeting of British Society of Criminology, Sheffield UK, July 2017.